

Abstract

The title of the bachelor's thesis: Case Report of Physiotherapy of a Patient after Surgery of Lumbar Spine because of Intervertebral Disc Herniation

Summary: The general part of the thesis includes description of kinesiology and biomechanics of the lumbar spine and an intervertebral disc. The thesis concentrates on diagnostic methods and following therapy. The special part of the thesis contains a detailed case report of a patient after a lumbar spine surgery because of an intervertebral disc herniation.

Key words: intervertebral disc, lumbar spine, herniation, radicular syndrome